ABSTRACT

Qotrunnada, Wilda. 2024. “Grammatical Error Analysis on Senior High School Student’s Narrative Text Writing”. English Education Program, Faculty of Social and Humanity, Nurul Jadid University Paiton Probolinggo. Advisor Durratul Hikmah, M. Pd.

This study aimed to analyze grammatical errors by students XI IBB2 Senior High School in writing Narrative Text, and identify the factors of student make errors in writing Narrative Text. The subjects of this study were 20 students. The method used in this study was the qualitative method, the research design used by the researcher is a case study. The researcher used interview and observation as the research instrument. This study showed the type of grammatical errors by student are Omission –ed, Omission of the article (the, a, an), Omission To be (is, am, are), Omission of –ing, Addition preposition (to, for, into), Misinformation to be (was/were), Misinformation Selection of Irregular Past Verbs. According to the findings of many students, they made mistakes in the omission, addition and misformation errors. The conclusion in this research shows that the students often made grammatical errors in writing narrative text. Besides that, the errors are common make by students is because their lack of knowledge about grammar, their lack of motivation in writing assignments and as time constraints in working on their writing.
